About the Author

Geraldine Bonner

Geraldine Bonner was an American author, best known for her contributions to early detective fiction and mystery novels. She wrote during the late 19th and early 20th centuries, a period when detective fiction was experiencing a significant rise in popularity, thanks in part to authors like Arthur Conan Doyle and Agatha Christie. Although she is not as widely recognized today, Bonner was a prolific writer of her time, and her works reflect the conventions and themes typical of early mystery fiction.

Product Description

"The Castlecourt Diamond Mystery" by Geraldine Bonner is an early 20th-century detective novel that offers readers a suspenseful, character-driven mystery. It explores themes of social class, deception, and crime, set against the backdrop of the search for a stolen diamond. While Bonner’s work may not have achieved the same level of fame as other mystery writers of her time, this novel is a solid example of early detective fiction and provides an engaging experience for fans of the genre.
