About the Author

Arthur Conan Doyle

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was a British author and physician best known for creating the iconic detective Sherlock Holmes. Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, he studied medicine and practiced as a doctor while writing fiction. His first Holmes story, A Study in Scarlet, was published in 1887. Over his career, Conan Doyle wrote numerous novels, short stories, and plays, blending genres like mystery, science fiction, and historical fiction. His Last Bow is one of his notable collections featuring Sherlock Holmes.

Product Description

The Lost World is a classic adventure novel that blends science fiction with exploration themes. The story follows Professor Challenger, a brash and confident scientist, who leads an expedition to a remote plateau in the Amazon, where he believes prehistoric creatures still exist. As they venture into this uncharted territory, they encounter various prehistoric animals and face numerous dangers, including a conflict between the indigenous people and a brutal tribe of ape-like creatures known as the "ape-men." The novel explores themes of scientific discovery, the clash between civilisation and primitive life, and the resilience of nature. Overall, The Lost World is a thrilling tale that reflects the spirit of adventure and exploration of its time.
