About the Author

Rabindranath Tagore

Rabindranath Tagore (7 May 1861 – 7 August 1941) is a world-renowned poet, writer, novelist, essayist and artist known for creating works that bridged the gap between common people and those sitting at the highest echelons of power in India in pre-Independence years. His works mark the onset of modernism in literature and art, and he was also awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1913 for his exemplary contribution.

Product Description

This rare book features a collection of three hundred and twenty short poems by Rabindranath Tagore. Translated into English by Tagore himself, these exquisite poems—reminiscent of Haiku—will captivate any poetry enthusiast. Together, they form a beautiful compendium of verse, making this work a valuable addition to any literary collection.
