About the Author

Victor Hugo

Victor Hugo (1802–1885) was a renowned French writer and key figure in the Romantic movement. His novel The Hunchback of Notre-Dame (1831), translated by Isabel F. Hapgood, is a timeless masterpiece set in 15th-century Paris. The story explores themes of love, beauty, and social injustice, centering on the lives of Quasimodo, the deformed bell-ringer, and Esmeralda, a kind-hearted gypsy. Hugo's vivid descriptions and emotional depth brought Notre-Dame Cathedral to life, cementing his legacy as a literary genius

Product Description

The Hunchback of Notre-Dame by Victor Hugo, translated by Isabel F. Hapgood, is a classic novel set in 15th-century Paris. It follows the tragic tale of Quasimodo, the deformed bell ringer of Notre Dame, and his love for the beautiful gypsy, Esmeralda. The story intertwines themes of love, social injustice, and fate, exploring the lives of complex characters against the backdrop of a changing society. Hugo's vivid portrayal of Paris and its gothic architecture enhances the emotional depth of this timeless work.
