

Book Information Sheet

Prints Publications Pvt. Ltd.

A Monument for Mr. Jinnah

Author: Prafull Goradia

Publisher: Prints Publications Pvt Ltd

Product Specification

Publisher	Prints Publications Pvt Ltd
Publication Year	2026
ISBN-13	9789366976761
Binding	hard_back
Number of Pages	168
Language	english
Edition	1st
Dimension	6.25"*9.25"
Weight (Grams)	442
Subject	Political Science
Availability	1

Price

Price (INR):	₹ 795
Discounted Price (INR):	₹ 596.25
Price (USD):	$ 20
Discounted Price (USD):	$ 20

About the Author

Prafull Goradia

Prafull Goradia, born in Bombay on 27th March 1937, is a specialist of the tea industry, having worked with the biggest tea-brokers in the world and later in his own business. He later made the conscious and resolute decision to quit a comfortable existence to enter the uncertain world of politics, his real passion and constant calling since his adolescence. Elected to Parliament in 1998, as a member of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), he intervened in several important matters that came up for discussion, making several significant speeches on contemporary issues, participating in debates and contributing to policy making. Prafull Goradia has penned several books: Profiles of Tea, Dear Editor, The Saffron Book, Hindu Masjids, Muslim League's Unfinished Agenda, Anti-Hindus and Saga of Indian Tea, Fly me to the Moon (Bloomsbury India), Krishna Rajya (Bloomsbury India), Saffron Awakening, Had Patel been Prime Minister, Jinnah Helped Hindus, Population Exchange. He has also written over 500 articles on issues of both national and global significance. His letters to editors of national dailies, numbering over 2,800, are useful for transporting contemporary readers over a period of modern India's political journey. He presides over The Indian School in Delhi, which has earned a reputation for offering modern education entwined with traditional Indian ethos.

Product Description

About the Books This book delivers a bold and unflinching re-examination of Partition, Mohammad Ali Jinnah, and India's civilisational destiny. Challenging inherited narratives, it asks a question few dare to confront: Was the tragedy of Partition also a turning point that enabled India's resurgence? Blending history, philosophy, and political analysis, the author traces the long arc of the subcontinent—from early medieval invasions and prolonged civilisational conflict to colonial rule and independence. Jinnah emerges not just as a nationalist leader, but as a figure whose personal ambition reshaped the fate of the region, often with unintended consequences. The book contrasts India's civilisational continuity and democratic ascent with Pakistan's troubled political and cultural trajectory, arguing that while Partition caused immeasurable suffering, it also cleared the path for a more cohesive Indian national life. Written with clarity and moral urgency, this is neither tribute nor indictment, but a reckoning—urging readers to move beyond sentimentality and ideology to confront history as it is. For readers interested in history, geopolitics, and civilisational thought, this book is provocative, unsettling, and impossible to ignore